MONDAY, OCTOBER 23. 1739.

No. 1351.

From the London Gazette.

Stockholm, September 28.

THE Battalion of Sudermania marched thro' this City last Wednesday in its Way to the Rendezvous for embarkment. The King saw it from the Windows of the Governor of this City, that Regiment formerly belonging to him the said Governor. His Majesty went about five Miles off to review the Battalion of Ostrogothia, and returned last Night; and set out this Morning for Eskilund, in order to see the Battalions of three or four other Regiments which are to pass through the Neighbourhood of that Place. On the 1st Instant Mr. Burdaby, Secretary from his Britannic Majesty to this Court, had his first Audience of the Swedish Majesty.

Oct. 2. The Chancery received the Letters seized upon the late unfortunat Major Sinclair; they were addressed to the Swedish Commissary at Hambourg, but from whence it was known, and that Commissary forwarded them thither.

Oct. 17. N. S. The Court being Adjourned to Devotion, there was no Council at Sessions: And Preparations are now making for the Reception of their Danish Majesties at Bricksno, whether they intend to remove next Week, or to reside there during the Winter. Yesterday in the Afternoon General Dismar arrived here, and this Morning pursued his Journey for Stockholm.

Oct. 17. N. S. It is said, that two or three Regiments which have served very ill are to be disbanded, and many more new Regiments incorporated. It is proposed to have 20000 Men in Flanders, 30000 in Italy, and 80000 more for other Services: For the ordinary Maintenance of which last Number, the War being provided for by the respective States of Sweden and Italy, there were assign'd and set apart eight Millions annually during the Time of the late Prince Eugene of Savoy.

Oct. 20. N. S. There are some very warm Disputes between this Court and that of Dresden touching Affairs. A Saxon Lieutenant was a few Days ago confined Prisoner to the Main-guard here; by way of Retaliation for a Prussian Officer who is in Arrest in Saxony, for having attempted to seduce some Men out of the King of Poland's Service.

Oct. 21. N. S. Letters from St. Hubert relate, that the Vice-Chancellor Malakowsky receiv'd an Express from Warsaw, with the News that Count Munich having advanced from Bres to Bender, had made himself Master of that Place without any Opposition, upon the first of this Month; and that the Tatars of Budack, and Bessarabia, had come in and submitted to him. We wait for further Advice before we give entire Credit to this News.

The large Demand for Shares of Tickets at Mr. Wilson's Office, at Craig's-Court, Charing-Cross, has induced him to divide so low as the Sixteenth Part of a Ticket, at the same Price as before. His Method is, and always hath been, to endorse each Proprietor's Name on the Backside of every Ticket so shared, expressing the Rate they are entitled to, and immediately on each Ticket's being all shared (for the better Security of the Proprietors) he deposits them with an eminent Banker, there to abide till the Lottery is drawn, and the Prizes delivered. The Tickets, as well as Shares, are always to be had at his Office at the Market Price; and those Adventurers who register the Number of their Tickets or Share with him will have immediate Accounts sent of their Success (if in Favour) or to any Part of Great Britain, &c.
